

Code of Conduct

The HackWeakEnd is an inclusive initiative where issues affecting our society is tackled and solved using technology. It is a collective community of community made up of people from all around Africa and Africans in Diaspora. As in the case of collaboration, everyone contributes their quota to the development of their communities, Africa.

All attendees, sponsors and volunteers at the HackWeakEnd Hackathon are required to agree with the following code of conduct. Maximum cooperation from all participants will help ensure a safe and enjoyable Hackathon Event for everyone.

We are poised to providing a harassment-free event experience for everyone, regardless of gender, gender identity and expression, age, sexual orientation, disability, physical appearance, body size, race, ethnicity, religion (or lack thereof), or technology choices. We do not tolerate harassment of participants in any form. Sexual language and imagery is not appropriate, including talks, workshops, parties, Twitter and other online media. Event participants violating these rules may be sanctioned or expelled from the event and if possible be handed over to the law enforcement authorities.

Harassment includes offensive verbal comments related to gender, gender identity and expression, age, sexual orientation, disability, physical appearance, body size, race, ethnicity, religion, technology choices, sexual images in public spaces, deliberate intimidation, stalking, following, harassing photography or recording, sustained disruption of talks or other events, inappropriate physical contact, and unwelcome sexual attention.

Sponsors are also subject to the anti-harassment policy. In particular, sponsors should not use sexualized images, activities, or other material.

If a participant engages in harassing behavior, we will take any action they deem appropriate, as stated earlier. If you are being harassed, notice that someone else is being harassed, or have any other concerns, please contact a member of organizing team immediately. The Hackathon Organizing team members can be identified as they'll be wearing branded clothing and/or badges.

We will be happy to help participants security or local law enforcement, provide escorts, or otherwise assist those experiencing harassment to feel safe for the duration of the Hackathon. We value your attendance.

We expect participants to follow these rules at events.
